Confessed Spy Weeps, Says He Is Sorry

NEW YORK — Tears filling his eyes and his hands trembling, confessed spy Jack Soble said Tuesday he deeply regrets the crimes he committed against his country. He asked mercy from the country he schemed to betray.

The 55-year-old former head of a Soviet intelligence ring in the United States told Federal Judge Richard H. Levett:

"I cannot forgive myself. I had plenty of opportunity to straighten out my life since I came to this country and I didn't do it."

Soble appeared before Levett for sentencing. He had pleaded guilty to conspiring to obtain national defense secrets, knowing the information would be transmitted to the Soviet Union.

Levett said he would impose sentence next Tuesday. He also will rule on motions to reduce the 5½-year sentences he imposed Aug. 9 on Soble's wife Myra, 53, and Jacob Albam, 64.

Mrs. Soble and Albam pleaded guilty to the same charge as did Soble.

Soble could get a maximum sentence of 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Actress Gets Church Warning on Marriage

VATICAN CITY —A Vatican attorney warned today that actress Sophia Loren and the divorced Italian director she married by proxy in Mexico are liable to excommunication if they set up housekeeping.

Pio Ciprotti, a lay member of the Vatican's Rota, the high tribunal that rules on the validity of marriages, said such marriages as that of the glamorous film star to Carlo Ponti were under church law "gravely illicit."

Woman Dies Of Collision Injuries

Mrs. Ora Tamme, 65, Portsmouth, Third Fatality

Mrs. Ora Tamme, 65, Portsmouth, died Monday night in Berger Hospital. She was critically injured in a car-truck collision at Routes 104 and 56 last Wednesday.

The death was not reported until today to the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department by Berger Hospital. Mrs. Tamme remained in critical condition until time of death.

Mrs. Tamme's death marks the third fatal accident in Pickaway

County so far this year. Last year at this time 12 deaths were recorded on area highways.

The other two fatal crashes here were on January 23 and August 11.

MRS. FLORENCE Horton, 56, Portsmouth, a passenger in the Tamme car, was in critical condition today at the hospital.

The truck involved was operated by Addison Spangler, 50, Route 2, Amanda. He and a passenger, Russell Campbell, were treated for abrasions, contusions and shock.

George Carter, 24, Portsmouth, another passenger in the Tamme car, was treated for shock.

According to Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff the Tamme car was headed east on Route 56.

Spangler's truck was traveling north on Route 104. Route 104 traffic has the right of way at the intersection the deputy said.

William E. LaRue, 21, S. Scioto St., and Mrs. Betty Large, 27, Route 1, Williamsport, were rushed to Berger Hospital following a one-car crash on Route 22 about 5 miles west of Circleville at 6:55 a. m. today.

2 Big Coffee Firms Trim Prices Again

NEW YORK — Two leading coffee roasters today cut prices two to three cents a pound on the wholesale level.

General Foods Corp. reduced its grocery pack regular ground Maxwell House and Sanka coffees three cents a pound and its regular ground Yuban and Bliss coffees two cents a pound.

Standard Brands Inc. dropped the wholesale price of its regular ground Chase & Sanborn coffee three cents a pound.

The last price cut was Sept. 11.

At that time the reduction was attributed in part to a drop in prices of Colombian coffee. No reason was given for today's announcements.

"I am hoping we can hold the 1959 budget to 70 billion dollars," he told a news conference. "I don't exactly expect that, but I think every member of the administration is doing his level best."

GI's Japanese Wife May Be Witness

MAEBASHI, Japan — Japanese government prosecutors said today they might ask William S. Girard's Japanese wife to testify in the GI's manslaughter trial if the defense doesn't.

Girard's Japanese lawyer has ordered Mrs. Haru "Candy" Girard to stay out of court. He said the Japanese public disapproved of their marrying while the Otawara III soldier was under indictment for the fatal shooting of a Japanese woman collecting scrap brass on a firing range.

Japanese law however obligates the prosecution to present all pertinent facts even if they do not support the government's case.

Cincy Architect Dies

CINCINNATI — Robert S. Craspey, 82, an architect who helped design some of Cincinnati's largest buildings died Tuesday.

SLAIN TROOPER AND FAMILY — Michigan State Trooper Douglas Pellot (left), 27, was one of two troopers killed by two gunmen in a series of gun battles across Michigan and Indiana. At the right is his widow and year-old son, Kay Ellen and Gregory. Three other officers were wounded. One of the gunmen was slain and the second, identified as Victor W. Whitley, 26, of Granger, Tex., surrendered when three Indiana policemen spotted him in a thinly-wooded area five miles south of North Vernon.

Three Persons Suffer Hurts In Two Automobile Crashes

Three persons were injured in two auto accidents yesterday and today the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department reported.

According to Deputy Robert Hoover, William Harness, 37, Columbus suffered a possible broken nose when his car crashed into a ditch about 12 miles north of Circleville. Bessie Mae Knox, 35, Columbus, a passenger, was injured.

Deputy Hoover said Harness' car, apparently parked in a field, crashed into a ditch when he attempted to pull onto the road. The car then skidded across the highway and into a ditch on the other side.

Harness was unable to make a statement on what happened the deputy said. The front end of the car was heavily damaged.

William E. LaRue, 21, S. Scioto St., and Mrs. Betty Large, 27, Route 1, Williamsport, were rushed to Berger Hospital following a one-car crash on Route 22 about 5 miles west of Circleville at 6:55 a. m. today.

British Treasury Reserves Show Dip

LONDON —The Treasury announced today that Britain's gold and dollar reserves fell by $292 million during September.

The reserves stood at $1,850,000 on Sept. 30.

It has been accepted by some economists that $2 billion is the minimum figure to which the reserves could fall without endangering the value of the pound. The reserves finance the sterling area's trade with the dollar world.

The sterling area includes Britain and the commonwealth except Canada and some other countries. Successive British governments have fought since the end of World War II to protect the gold and dollar balance.

Ex-Jap Leader Hurt

TOKYO — An automobile in which Crown Prince Akihito was riding struck and injured a former surgeon of the imperial Japanese army today. Kaihei Ando, 72, was hospitalized with face injuries.

drift—the sideward slippage of the plane from action of the wind.

A navigator has only to put into the computer the latitude and longitude of the plane at the start of the flight and the same information for the destination.

Once the plane is airborne, the computer takes the information supplied by the Doppler Radar and the compass, computes its present position and the course it must fly to reach the destination. It also computes the distance to be traveled. This information is presented on dials for the pilot's guidance or can be fed into an automatic pilot which flies the airplane to its destination.

The pilot need keep only one indicator arrow pointed straight up to stay on his computed course. When he reaches his destination, a light glows to signal the trip's end.

$9,000 Collected In Fund Campaign

Total collection for the 1957 Pickaway County Community Fund today reached $9,042.50 — or about 31.5 per cent of the campaign goal of $28,700.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Mason, campaign co-chairmen, said today that house-to-house solicitations are well under way throughout the county. Every home in Pickaway County is to be solicited and it is hoped that every call will bring a gift.

Most business, industry and special groups solicitations have been made, however, several volunteer solicitors have not reported as yet. It is expected that some "call-backs" will be made during the week.

Five Pickaway County agencies exist on the funds collected during the Community Fund campaign. They are the Youth Canteen, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Red Cross and Girl Scouts.

Hundreds of volunteer workers are making the residential solicitation. They are to complete their rounds by Saturday and reports are to be made before Oct. 12 — a week from Saturday.

Opponents Battle Hoffa Steamroller

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. —Three opponents battled desperately today to stem a steamroller which appeared to be sweeping James R. Hoffa of Detroit toward the presidency of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

In a swirling, slambang battle for delegate votes, Hoffa picked up endorsements from the New England Conference, the Eastern Conference and the Los Angeles Joint Council of Teamsters in his campaign to succeed retiring President Dave Beck.

International Vice President Elmer Mohn, formerly of Los Angeles and now Beck's administrative assistant, made his first public move in the massive battle for power as he spearheaded the drive to win the Los Angeles delegates over to the Midwest Teamster boss.

General Secretary John F. English, a veteran and powerful Teamster figure, was prominent in the action of the New England Conference in Hoffa's favor.

But anti-Hoffa forces were still active, aggressive and asserting confidence. A spokesman said the Maryland and Washington, D. C., delegates declined to endorse Hoffa and that Virginia and Carolina delegates may follow suit.

INTERNATIONAL Vice President William A. Lee of Chicago was given a vote of confidence by the National Bakeries Drivers Conference, but not an endorsement.

Efforts to form a coalition of forces between Lee, Vice President Thomas L. Hickey of New York and Thomas J. Haggerty, Chicago milk truck drivers official, continued.

Haggerty Tuesday night declared that the determination of the three Hoffa foes to "go down to the wire" means that their separate strength will be sufficient to prevent Hoffa's election.

But the scrapping Midwest Teamster boss, target of charges of racketeering and misuse of union funds, ridiculed his opponents.

And he showed his strength by turning into a personal ovation a demonstration over the refusal by Chief Justice Earl Warren of the U. S. Supreme Court to halt Teamster elections.

Warren Tuesday refused to disturb a Circuit Court of Appeals decree setting aside a temporary injunction by Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts which would have prevented the Teamsters from electing new officers at their convention here this week.

When Beck announced to the convention news of Warren's decision, delegates jumped to their feet shouting and hurling scraps of paper into the air.

Hoffa suddenly appeared on the rostrum and raised Beck's hand in the traditional prize ring signal of victory. At that point the shouting rose to a frenzied roar.

A few minutes later M. W. Miller of Dallas, Southern Teamster boss chairman of convention arrangements and ardent Hoffa supporter, jubilantly declared, "Did you see that out there—we just held the election."

State police said Whitley told them that Ralph Walker Taylor, 36, Kenova, W. Va., fired the shots that killed State Troopers Dugald A. Pellot, 23, Clinton, Mich., and William Kellems, 27, Scottsburg.

Taylor died Monday night in an exchange of gunfire with Lester Kelen, 38, North Vernon patrolman, as Taylor and Whitley fled from a police roadblock set up at Vernon after Kellems was slain.

The killing of Taylor and cornering of Whitley ended a four-month robbery spree by the two gunmen. Taylor was a convicted rapist and parole violator from West Virginia, but police said Whitley had no previous record of a major crime.

Whitley told of a series of 21 armed robberies from Delaware to Texas but said he and Taylor never were forced to fire their guns until Monday, when Trooper Douglas A. Vogel stopped them in a traffic check near Clinton.

Tiny Nation Tense, Armed Camps Form

SAN MARINO (AP)—Communists and anti-Communist militiamen opposed each other today in this tiny republic, but neither showed any inclination to start fighting while a heavy rain continued.

About 50 civilian volunteers armed with submachineguns, rifles and pistols guarded a factory at the eastern tip of San Marino where a new provisional anti-Communist government set up headquarters Tuesday.

Some 100 young Communist volunteers armed with pre-World War I rifles and 20 rounds of ammunition each patrolled the rest of San Marino, including the government palace. The palace still was held by the Red government the anti-Communists are trying to oust.

Standing by in the rain were the 200 police of the 38-square mile republic. They also carried antiquated arms but no ammunition.

Turmoil began two weeks ago when defections from the ruling Communist-Socialist bloc gave anti-Communists a majority in the 60-member Grand Council, the nation's elected Parliament. The council names the top executives, two "captains regent."

The Communists ordered the council dissolved to keep non-Communists from appointing new executives and called for elections Nov. 3. The non-Communists declared this action was illegal, that another election wasn't due until 1959.

Newest Nuclear Reactor Displayed

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—Some 300 leaders of government and industry were in eastern Idaho today for a look at the Atomic Energy Commission's newest nuclear reactor—one aimed at speeding up the development of atomic power.

A scientist who directs part of the test reactor program said the one on exhibit is "the world's most powerful known test reactor for assisting in the development of nuclear power."

The comment was by J. R. Huffman, technical manager of Phillips Petroleum Co.'s Atomic Division at the National Reactor Testing Station.

The AEC said the test reactor costs about $14 million.

Another $7,700,000 was awarded in maintenance and repair contracts and about $5,600,000 for preliminary engineering.

Arabia Rejects Western Views On Middle East

U.N. Urged To Adopt Hands-Off Attitude On Syrian Problems

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Saudi Arabia today rejected Western charges that Soviet arms shipments were endangering peace in the Middle East. Instead, it said the tension was caused by the relics of Western imperialism.

In a policy declaration before the 82-nation General Assembly, Minister of State Ahmad Shukairy called on the U.N. to adopt a hands-off attitude and let the Middle East settle its own problems.

He declared the full solidarity of his country with Syria. "We shall resist any attempt to interfere in the affairs of Syria," he said. "We shall not allow the Middle East to be plunged into any cold war of any character."

Shukairy said the Western powers had charged that the Soviet Union was trying to incite Arab nationalism with the aim of breaking the ties of the Arab nations with the West.

"Arab ties with the West are breaking," he said. "The Arab countries are eager to establish the best relations with the west on a level of equality and mutual respect."

HE ASSERTED Syria's arms buildup "is no danger to any neighbors."

Saudi Arabia was the only Arab nation to speak in the morning debate. Jordan and Iraq had planned to deliver policy speeches, but decided later to postpone their appearance until another day.

Neither Syria nor Egypt, the Arab nations' friendly to the Soviet bloc, have spoken in the general debate.

Syria canceled two appearances scheduled last week. Observers believe Syria's delay is a result of Saudi Arabian King Saud's visit last week to Damascus, where he reportedly tried to find a basis for friendlier relations between Syria and the United States, Jordan and Iraq.

There have been indications that Saud appealed to President Eisenhower to modify the U.S. government's hostility to the Syrian regime.

Observers at the Damascus party reported a subtle change appeared to be taking place in Syria's viewpoint towards the West, with indications she was opening the door for new negotiations.

In another development, the General Assembly agreed to debate the Soviet-proposed question of peaceful coexistence and non-interference in the affairs of other countries. Another U.S. - Russian clash between Russia and the United States was anticipated when the Assembly's Political Committee takes up the item.

County School Enrollment Up 1.5 Per Cent for 57-58

Total enrollment in Pickaway County schools this year is 4,411, according to George McDowell, superintendent of schools.

The enrollment figure reflects an increase of 65 of 1.5 per cent over enrollment at the beginning of the 1956-57 school year. Of this year's total, 3,221 are pupils in elementary schools and 1,190 are pupils enrolled in county high schools.

Enrollment by school is as follows: Ashville, 496; Darby Twp., 324; Deer Creek Twp., 343; Duvall, 121; South Bloomfield, 80; Jackson Twp., 219; Madison Twp., 120; Monroe Twp., 262;

LONDON (AP)—Royal hair dresser Riche decreed today that women's hair styles in 1958 should resemble the birds and bees.

"Fashion has gone full circle," said the man who fixes the royal tresses of the Duchess of Kent and Princess Alexandra, "so now we're going back before Adam and Eve for inspiration—the birds and bees."

Some of his 16 new styles for the coming year, showed off by a group of models, were: Town Sparrow, Busy Be, Beehive, bee in a bonnet and 'tulle dove.

The loudest acclaim was for beehive. The shape of the model's hair resembled the silhouette of a bee. On top of the brunette waves rested a small bee hive and from it sprouted a pair of bees.

Federal Road Chief Lauds Ohio Planning

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio, contrary to some recent criticism, is doing "very well" in planning its highway construction program says Bertram D. Tallamy, the nation's highway chief.

Tallamy met here Tuesday with Ohio Highway Chief Charles M. Noble for a discussion of federal highway administration.

Critics in some quarters have claimed that Noble is using unnecessarily high standards on the Cincinnati-Connaut Freeway. His critics say unnecessarily gentle curves and grades and wide median strips on the Freeway will bring the cost of the roadway higher than it ought to be.

Attorneys Oppose Proposed Ohio Law

COLUMBUS (AP)—Attorneys seeking to ban a proposed change in the Ohio Constitution from Nov. 5 election ballots say adoption would restrict the growth of cities.

James W. Farrell Jr., Cincinnati solicitor, made the assertion at an Ohio Supreme Court hearing Tuesday on the request of 11 cities to prevent a vote on the proposal. An early court decision was looked for.

The constitutional amendment seeks to give the legislature power to regulate the sale of municipally owned water and sewer services to factories, homes and other users outside their boundaries.

Federal Troop

answer "yes" or "no" to the question of guaranteeing the safety of the nine Negroes, he turned to the reporter who asked it and said:

"HAVE YOU stopped beating your wife? Answer that yes or no."

Nine Negro students were greeted with shouts and hoots today at Central High School but they entered the school without any disorder. It was the eighth day of troop-enforced integration.

Federalized Arkansas National Guardsmen were back on duty at the big high school for the second day in a row, having relieved regulars of the 101st Airborne Division Tuesday.

For the last several days, the six Negro girls and three boys have used the main entrance to Central High, making their way in each morning through a mass of between 75 to 150 white students gathered there.

As the Negroes left a National Guard station wagon this morning, shouts and hooting arose from white students.

The Negroes, unescorted, took a sidewalk leading to their left and headed for a side entrance. When the white students noticed this, the jeering grew in volume and there were cries of "chicken!"

Mrs. L. C. Bates, state president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, made a rare appearance in the high school area, driving by to see if the Negro students had gotten safely inside the school.

Mrs. Bates said Tuesday that the nine Negroes were subjected inside the school to what she described as organized intimidation by the white students. Mrs. Bates said objects were thrown at the Negroes by the other students.

She said that pencils, papers and pebbles were thrown at the children. Some of the six Negro girls were shown knives and were shoved, Mrs. Bates said.

Reporters saw white students apparently try to block some of the Negroes when they went to classes Tuesday. The Negroes walked around the other students. One Negro girl dropped her books, or they were knocked from her grasp, and guardsmen double-timed to her side.

Removal of the paratroopers from school duty apparently encouraged a handful of white students, among those boycotting classes since integration, to appear across from the campus.

This group was orderly but one of them told reporters that efforts were under way to organize a mass walkout of white students.

Embezzlement Is 'Difficult' In Ohio, State Auditor Says

By REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—Embezzlement by public officials is becoming more difficult in Ohio.

That is the opinion of State Auditor James A. Rhodes, who, as auditor, heads the State Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Offices.

About 250 examiners in the bureau make periodic reports to him on the books and records of public offices from the state level on down to the "grass roots."

A recent rash of embezzlement cases raised the question in some quarters as to whether public officials were becoming more dishonest.

"Emphatically not," Rhodes said. "Almost all public officials are honest and their accounting constantly is becoming more proficient."

Rhodes attributed the rash of small embezzlement cases to:

1. More frequent checks of public books and records by state examiners.
2. Better cooperation by local officials in asking special state examinations whenever wrongdoing is suspected.

"At least half of the shortages that we have brought to light this year," Rhodes said, "have resulted from the suspicions of other public officials."

"Then, too, we have caught up for the most part in the big backlog of long-overdue examinations which we inherited. Some extended back nearly a decade."

"Even with a reduced force of state examiners, the Bureau of Inspection is making more examinations than ever before, it is only natural that the more you dig, the more you will find."

The digging, he added, uncovered

ed more cases of embezzlement this year than during any similar period in recent years.

One of the cases involved a privately employed salesman accused of overcharging Carroll County about $30,000 for tires since 1948. County officials and his employer were unaware of the situation until examiners ran it down, Rhodes reported.

The largest finding against a public official during the period was for about $600. Most were for small sums. A total of 367 audits last August and September turned up four embezzlement cases involving public officials.

Prosecution of cases uncovered by examiners is up to county and municipal officials under Ohio law.

Rhodes termed efforts to bring examinations up to date a part of his program to streamline office operations through use of modern business machines and special training for employees. The results will be increased savings to taxpayers, he asserted.

Re-elected last year, Rhodes is the only elected official in an administrative state office serving a four-year term. Other elective state officials, from the governor on down, are serving for two years. But a voter-approved change in the constitution will make the terms of those offices four years, starting in 1959.

Instead of running for any other office next year, Rhodes said he will campaign for the Republican state of candidates, expected to be headed by Gov. C. William O'Neill.

During his first term as auditor, Rhodes ran unsuccessfully against Frank J. Lausche, now U. S. Senator, in Lausche's bid for a fifth term as governor. Because the campaign took place during his four-year term, Rhodes continued as auditor despite his defeat in the gubernatorial race.

He expressed belief that Ohioans and their newspapers are becoming more alert to public inefficiency and wrongdoing.

"People everywhere are more concerned than ever before about the expenditure of taxpayers' money," Rhodes said. "They are conscious of waste and inefficiency in the administration of public affairs. They do not hesitate to make their sentiments known. This is keeping public officials constantly on their toes."

"Newspapers are more alert than ever before in ferreting out inefficiency and wrongdoing and just as zealous in bringing both to the attention of the public."

Children's Bureau Finds Adoption Demands Growing

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON (P)—More Americans want families today than ever before. The couples who can't have children want to adopt them. The sad thing is there are just not enough boys and girls to go around for all these would-be parents.

Adoptions are becoming increasingly popular and they are socially approved today. This is in sharp contrast to 25 years ago when adoptions were a hush-hush matter. The Children's Bureau estimates there were about 93,000 named in petitions for adoptions filed in courts in 1955. These included children adopted by relatives, or step parents, though the majority were children adopted by non-relatives.

The Children's Bureau figures there are 10 to 15 times as many families that want to adopt children than there are children legally relinquished by their parents for adoption. Some 80,000 families each year file petitions to adopt a child.

There have been statements that there are plenty of children to go around. Recent census figures show there are some 87,000 children in institutions for dependent and neglected children.

The Children's Bureau says there is no basis for belief that the great majority of these children could be adopted. Most have parents who have not relinquished them for adoption; some have mental or physical handicaps; many are older children.

Most are there because death or illness of one parent, or a divorce, has caused temporary removal from their own homes until new plans can be made. Unless a legal surrender is made by the parents, or ordered by a court, in case the parents are dead, these children cannot be adopted by anyone.

The largest percentage of these institution children also are around seven years of age or over. Some people want the 7, 10, or 12 year olds. A few can be persuaded to take 2, 3 or 4-year-olds. But most couples ask for babies.

Old Age Medical Bills Show Hike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—Ohio spent more than twice as much on medical bills for old age pensioners last month as it did in September, 1956, State Auditor James A. Rhodes reports.

The increase came despite a drop of almost 50 per cent in the number of cases handled, Rhodes said Tuesday.

Last month, according to his report, the state spent $706,951 in 4,497 cases. A year ago, it spent $306,344 in 8,670 cases.

September pension payments were also up from a year ago. Payments totaling $6,240,437 went to 93,709 of Ohio's aged last month under the state's Aid for the Aged program. In September, 1956, some 97,383 persons received a total of $5,941,637.

Poland Halts Licenses For Private Tradesmen

WARSAW (P)—Polish authorities have stopped issuing new licenses for private trade, hoping to prevent competition with a network of state-owned stores.

The state shops are admittedly inadequate.

The move is a pullback from last year, when restrictions on private business were eased to improve living standards and find jobs for officials let out in a streamlining of the government administration.

Ex-Convict Pleads Innocent in Holdup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—Wesley L. Perry, 33, of Lincoln, Neb., pleaded innocent to a charge of armed robbery Tuesday in the holdup of a gas station here last week.

Perry, alias Harte, a former Nebraska convict, was held on $50,000 bond pending a preliminary hearing Oct. 8.

His companion, Donald D. Diehl, 21, Columbus, was bound over to a Franklin County grand jury on $16,000 bond on a separate charge that he robbed another gas service station. Diehl pleaded innocent to the charge Monday.

Cincinnati Operating Costs Up by 217 Pct.

CINCINNATI (P)—A private research organization here says Cincinnati city operating costs have increased 217 per cent since 1940. Figures in terms of equal dollars values, the increase is 158 per cent. These are the figures released by the Bureau of Governmental Research, which said 1940 costs were $13,146,199, while in 1956, they were $41,746,658.

Deep Freeze III Operation Starts

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand (P)—Three U. S. Navy planes carrying key personnel for Deep Freeze III landed at McMurdo Sound in the Antarctic Tuesday to get this year's scientific operation into high gear.

The three planes made the 2,400-mile trip from Christchurch in a little more than 12 hours.

Temperatures of 15 degrees below zero were reported Monday at McMurdo.

Weather permitting, the first big Air Force Globemaster will leave today for McMurdo, carrying cargo for the scientific undertaking that is part of the International Geophysical Year studies.

'The Traveler' Pleads Guilty

LOS ANGELES (P)—A man accused of passing $500,000 in worthless checks across the nation in 14 years has pleaded guilty to five counts of forgery.

Municipal Judge C. Newell Carns Tuesday ordered Charles R. Speedie — known to police as "The Traveler" — to appear in Superior Court Oct. 8 for sentencing.

Police say Speedie, arrested last month in a Cleveland suburb, is wanted in seven states and 150 California municipalities in connection with bogus checks.

Kids Make Sport Of Marine Course

BICKLEIGH, England (P)—The Royal Marines, who claim to have the world's toughest obstacle course, admitted today they have had to post guards to keep small boys from going around it.

The training course includes scaling an 80-foot cliff and crossing a river on ropes.

"Some of the boys have gone right through the obstacles without mishap," said Marine spokesman. "But we've got to keep them out; they might get hurt."

Historical Groups Meet in Columbus

COLUMBUS (P)—For six days starting today, Columbus will be the national center of archival and historical matters when the Ohio Historical Society is host to three national organizations.

The Society of American Archivists will meet today through Friday. On Thursday, the American Assn. for State and Local history will open a three-day session. The Ohio Institute on Local and State History will hold its fourth annual session Saturday, meeting jointly with the American Association.

The third national group will be the North American Assn. of Public Sites officials who will be here Sunday and Monday.

Purchasing Power Said Able Defeat Inflation

HAMILTON (P)—A United Auto Workers Union vice president says he believes that to combat inflation, purchasing power must be increased.

Leonard Woodcock of Detroit, said increased wages are not to blame for inflation. He said that since 1947, "wages went up 72 per cent while the auto industry's profits went up 260 per cent."

A halfback is not a glamorous position and is much like the unsung heroes of the line in American football.

Tax Exemption Is Denied Legion

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—The State Board of Tax Appeals Tuesday denied exemption from real estate taxes of a piece of property owned by Matamoras Post No. 378, American Legion, at Washington Court House.

The one-tenth of one acre property includes a building that is used as a meeting place and recreation hall. The board said the building sometimes is used fraternally, but is not used exclusively for charitable purposes, which would have made it eligible for tax exemption.

The Legion post sought exemption for the 1957 tax year and remission of taxes for the last half of 1955 and all of 1956.

Sibelius, a True Genius

Jean Sibelius, the Finnish composer who is dead in his native land at the age of 91, easily outranked his contemporaries in popular esteem. If he seemed to be less extravagantly eulogized in music circles in recent years than formerly, this may have been caused by his popularity with the vast public.

It cannot be denied that those who set the cultural pace seem to consider public favor a black mark against an artist's rating.

There are already indications that the pendulum is swinging back. There is a nobility and statute—not unmixed with grandiose pretentiousness—to many of Sibelius' compositions that will remain a part of music.

If he had never written anything but his tone poem, "Finlandia," which symbolizes the composer's native land in the minds of men all over the world, his immortality would be assured. So long as there exists a Finland, with forests, hills and lakes which Sibelius loved so well, "Finlandia" will never die.

To Be Lucky, Try Sweating

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—This is the story of a man who retired at 37 and now, at 44, is supremely happy.

Here is Peter DeMet's formula for successful retirement:

"After three months, go back to work—any kind of work!"

Pete, who is blue-eyed and stocky, has the easy-going air of a born salesman. He quit his high school after his sophomore year to sell cosmetic supplies on the road. Shortly after he was old enough to vote he had his own chain of beauty parlors.

Then he piled up more money as a car dealer and in 1950, having piled up enough, he quit work forever—or so he thought. No ulcers for him, no living out of pill bottles. Just long pleasant years of fishing in the Florida sun.

"I thought I was young enough to retire and enjoy myself," he recalled. "But I had been working seven days a week, and couldn't stand the letdown. It made me jump.

"At the end of three weeks I was picking things off the floor that weren't there. At the end of four weeks I was counting dust specks on the furniture. At the end of three months I knew I had to find something to keep me busy or I'd go crazy."

Just to keep his mind occupied DeMet bought a small Pontiac agency in Chicago—"All I really wanted was an office and a phone"—and built it into the world's largest.

From there one thing led to another. He became interested in bowling, and sank $300,000 in to making "Championship Bowling," a series of 26 TV film shorts on the sport that mushroomed into a multimillion-dollar venture and led the industry to vote him bowling's "Man of the Year." He also has bought a $1,200,000 bowling alley in Coral Gables, Fla.

A friend came to ask his advice about some mining properties in Colorado. Today, some what to his own surprise, DeMet finds himself one of the country's major thorium producers.

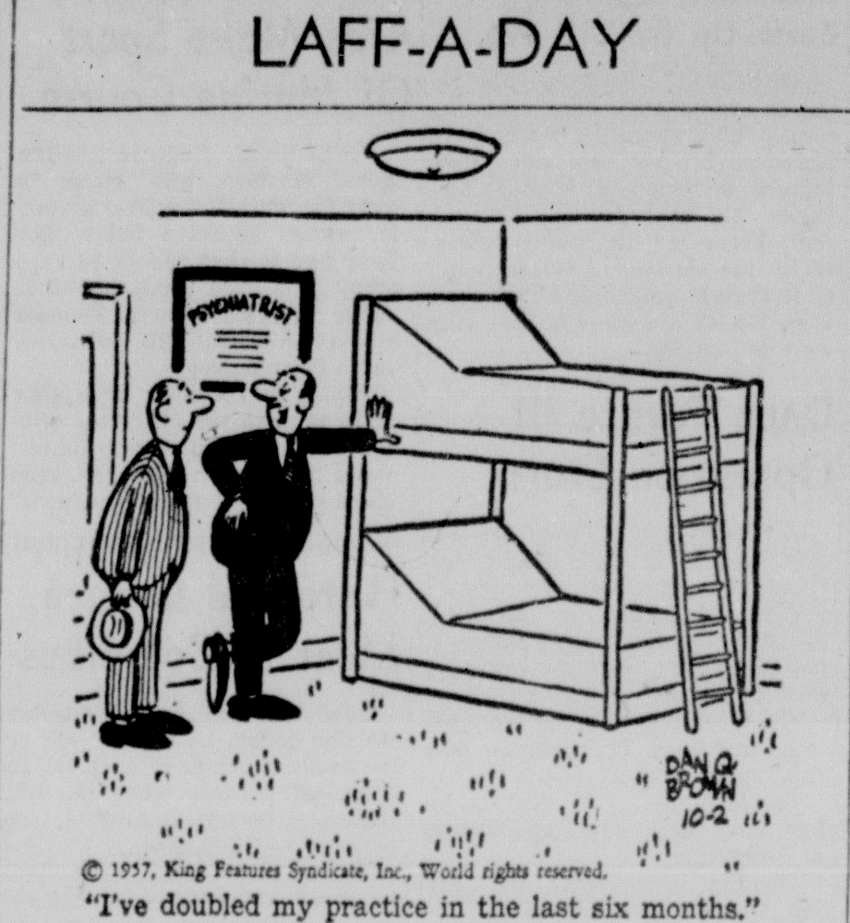

Pete, against the advice of experts in the field, recently sank $400,000 into producing "All-Star Golf," a series of 13 film shorts in which such golf greats as Sam Snead, Lloyd Mangrum and Jimmy Demaret will compete for prize money totaling $80,000. It will be shown on the ABC network.

DeMet who also is investing in Florida real estate, has an interesting business philosophy:

"If you believe in a thing, do it, no matter what other people tell you."

"Once you've put your money on the wheel, relax and quit worrying until you see where the ball stops."

"Sweat makes luck. The harder you work, the luckier you are."

Appendicitis Attack May Be Dangerous for Youngsters

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

An appendicitis attack is a serious thing for anyone, but it is especially dangerous when the victim is an infant. The infant death rate from appendicitis is higher than that for adults.

Immediate diagnosis of an attack is essential because the course of an acute case of appendicitis in children is very rapid. While only a doctor can make a diagnosis, it's up to you parents to know when to call him.

Time is of the essence when that little tot of yours is ill.

As with adults, abdominal pain, localized tenderness and vomiting are the chief symptoms of appendicitis in children. But there are other things parents should watch for, too.

An infant with an abdominal pain probably will be irritable and restless. He will not sleep well.

If vomiting is severe, the youngster may also be constipated, although this is not always the case with appendicitis.

It's especially advisable to be alert for any of these symptoms following an acute infectious disease, a respiratory infection or gastroenteritis.

Try to determine just when these symptoms appeared, especially if they are linked with such disturbances as fever, changes in the child's sleep pattern, refusal to eat and similar occurrences.

The temperature of the child, his pulse rate and the white blood cell count doesn't help much in determining whether the illness is appendicitis. The only way to diagnose the situation is by physical examination of the baby.

Here, too, you parents can help the doctor. Probably the easiest and quickest way of conducting a preliminary examination is to permit the infant to lie on his mother's lap while still fully clothed.

After the physician determines whether there is any localized tenderness, he can make a more thorough examination.

Court Practice Dangerous?

By George Sokolsky

In the controversy that is arising over the Supreme Court, Rep. Wright Patman of Texas has raised a pertinent question, namely, that instead of basing decisions upon briefs submitted by litigants, the court briefs itself, using, at times, material not submitted to it by either party, but selected by the justice himself or by his law clerk who may introduce matter which according to Patman, is "unrecognized and non-authoritative."

Patman said concerning this: "... Formerly, we had every reason to expect that decisions by our Supreme Court would be controlled by the standards outlined by the Constitution, the law, the facts of the case and by the sound reasoning of the justices. In the past even though we felt the court had decided a case wrongly we nevertheless felt that the court had a basis in the record of the hearing in the case for its decision."

The difficulty now arises from the fact that text books, law reviews, propagandistic material from pressure groups and all sorts of outside factors enter into the formation of a decision, Patman says of this that if the court in preparing its decisions uses material without notifying counsel on both sides, neither side has the opportunity "to meet the arguments of these theorists and lobbyists."

To quote Patman: "... The law review articles, treatises, and so forth, prepared and disseminated by the lobbyists command no respect, have no standing as legal authorities, and therefore warrant no consideration by opposing counsel. If the rule were otherwise counsel would be rendered helpless because their arguments would be diluted heavily with extraneous miscellaneous matter designed to overcome the various theories advanced by the lobbyists posing as legal authorities."

However, whatever the Supreme Court says becomes authoritative. Therefore an article published in a law review could become the basis for the law of the land once a Supreme Court justice adopted it for a majority opinion, even though the article in question be written by a second year law student who has not yet cut his eye-teeth.

The problem here, it seems to me, is not so much what material the justices employ to form their opinions, as that counsel should know what it is so that they may argue a point. Otherwise it would seem futile to prepare a case, recognizing that a third brief would be submitted by an anonymous researcher employed by the court and against whose views and arguments no one would have a chance to say anything. Patman made an interesting observation in this connection:

"Research conducted by the Library of Congress regarding all of the decisions made by the Supreme Court of the United States in antitrust cases from 1890 to 1957 discloses that in no antitrust case prior to 1940 had the Supreme Court cited as an authority a law review article on the point in issue and upon which it relied for a decision in the case. However, the study has shown that commencing in 1940 the influence of law-review articles and of other publications has grown steadily with the Supreme Court of the United States in its consideration and decision in antitrust cases."

Do the justices always know who wrote the articles in the law reviews? Are those articles always signed? Do the justices study the backgrounds of the men who wrote those articles to determine whether what they say is based upon sound scholarship or is propaganda for a cause?

Rep. Patman makes the point that in two important cases, the citations, one from the Harvard Law Review and the other from the Yale Law Journal bore no signatures, the authors of the material being anonymous. Perhaps the justice of the Supreme Court who used these items in his opinion communicated with the editors of these publications to obtain the necessary information. But counsel for neither side could know in advance that these items would be cited in a prevailing Supreme Court decision.

There is an unnecessary element of surprise which could cause a miscarriage of justice. Lawyers spending months preparing briefs, at enormous expense to their clients, are suddenly faced by an article in a law journal which neither side may have read or noticed or considered worthwhile. In fact, for all we know, the justice, in a summer mood, may himself have written the anonymous article which he now cites as authoritative. It is not a safe practice.

The World Today

By James Marlow

By ED CREEGH
For James Marlow
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House is no stranger to excitement, but it hasn't seen lately an episode like Tuesday's.

The lobby was jammed with newsmen. They overflowed into the driveway in front of the executive offices. A sort of rear guard was posted at the side door, just in case the four Southern governors meeting with President Eisenhower on the Little Rock situation should come out that way.

Minutes, then hours dragged past. The noise level rose to a pitch just short of a shriek.

Then a door opened and the reporters and cameramen who brought you the story surged into the office of press secretary James C. Hagerty. Surged? They all but tumbled in. Once in, they stood, sat and perched on book-cases.

Hagerty stood behind his desk, arms folded, smiling the faint smile that signals to White House veterans: this is a big story, men.

It was, too. The Southern governors telegraphed it also. White-carnationed Luther Hodges of North Carolina fingered a copy of the joint statement by the White House and the governors. The mobile features of Maryland's Theodore R. McKeldin were in constant motion. Florida's prematurely gray Leroy Collins and Tennessee's equally handsome Frank Clement showed similar eagerness.

Hagerty had the privilege of announcing the news, as spokesman for President Eisenhower. It meant: if Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus would pledge to maintain law and order and not to interfere with federal court orders, Eisenhower would pull U.S. troops out of Little Rock. The governors said Faubus was ready to make such a pledge.

It looked as if the gravest integration crisis to date might be peacefully resolved.

And then the bottom began to fall out.

First, Faubus' "assurance" came through from Little Rock. He said he never intended to obstruct the orders of the federal courts—although a U.S. court has accused him of doing just that. He said he was prepared "as I have always been" to maintain law and order—for all that Eisenhower has indirectly blamed him for stirring up mob violence.

"I now declare," said the governor, "that upon withdrawal of federal troops, I will again assume full responsibility . . . for the maintenance of law and order, and that the orders of the federal courts will not be obstructed by me."

There were more hours of waiting. Finally, as midnight approached, Eisenhower issued a statement which for all practical purposes told the governor of Arkansas: You didn't go far enough.

Eisenhower said Faubus' statement doesn't guarantee he will use his full powers to prevent obstruction of court orders. And so, said the President, there is nothing to do but keep the federal troops on duty and hope both sides will keep trying to work out a solution.

The throng of newsmen had dwindled by the time the President's final statement was issued. The pro-and-con pickets who had marched for a time outside the White House gates had long since gone away.

One thing seemed certain: nine Negro children would go to school in Little Rock today still under the protection of the U.S. Army. Beyond that, it wasn't safe to predict.

Third Quarter Reports Show Dip in Profits

Some Businessmen Correct in Saying They Suffer Squeeze

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Some businessmen aren't kidding when they say their profits are being squeezed today. The first corporations to report on third quarter earnings show almost half of them making less this year than last.

This trend has disturbed stock market traders as much as anything of late. They note in particular that in many cases where earnings are below former levels total sales have increased, sometimes to record highs. But operating costs have risen faster and higher toward the break-even point.

The flood of third quarter earnings reports is yet to come after the accountants finish with the books closed Monday. But a number of corporations have fiscal years that don't fit the calendar year and their third quarter figures are available.

They are only an indication of what was going on among the profit and loss accounts this summer. Later and fuller reports may well overturn them.

The first 34 of these early bird reports show 18 companies doing better than a year ago and 16 doing worse. Each year one company operated at a net loss, but it was a different firm in 1956 than in 1957.

Combined, the 34 have net income after taxes of $42,462,683 for their summer operations. In their 1956 third quarter the same 34 had profits of $44,162,323. This was a decline of 3.8 per cent.

The squeeze on profits has been growing for some time. In the first three months of this year corporate earnings topped the year ago figure by about 8 per cent—but they were just even with the before-tax earnings racked up in the final three months of 1956.

By the April, May and June quarter business profits were riding only 3 per cent above the second quarter of 1956.

The Department of Commerce, reporting on all corporate earnings before taxes in the first three months of this year, figured it at an annual rate of just under 44 billion dollars. This was down about 1½ billion from the annual rate paid set in the last three months of 1956.

Many businesses look for their most profitable operations to come in the last three months of the year.

Merchants, in particular, are expecting that the record high level of personal income will mean that this year's Christmas sales will be the highest ever.

Bids Received On OU Building

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Knowlton Construction Co. of Bellefontaine, Ohio, Tuesday submitted the apparent low bid of $696,700 for general construction of a College of Education building at Ohio University at Athens.

The state had estimated the work would cost $887,356.

Heating, plumbing, elevator and other installations will make total cost of the building more than $900,000.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: We had a gifted child in our family who was a joy—at times a bit of a problem, but always a joy, because any difficulties that arose could be talked over and straightened out.

We also had another son, five years younger, who was a joy until the age of 10, when we realized that he didn't seem to join in our pleasures. He seemed always to pull in the opposite direction; and no matter how much I tried to get through to him, to have a mutual understanding, he withdrew into his own world.

Both boys are married now and have children of their own, but the situation still stands that way.

What I am trying to bring out is that the gifted child in our family wasn't the problem. Probably I was so contented and innocent in my enjoyment of the gifted child that I missed my cue when the next child came along. This has been a constant unhappy situation in my mind. Even though I am a grandmother now, I still feel badly about it.

Do you think the natures of the boys are just different? Probably the gifted boy has no bearing on the situation. As far as I know, no partiality was shown; yet if there was, it would have been unintentional; and certainly each boy was given every chance to enjoy his own childhood.

J. V.
DEAR J. V.: Life isn't all perfect, you know. It is a mixture of blessings and trials. It seems you were fortunate in having a joyous relationship with your elder son. This was a gift of Providence you might say. And the special blessing was balanced, as it happens, by a "problem" experience with his younger brother.

Since it wasn't in your power to change the nature of either lad you could only accept, adapt and

Altered Dollar Bill Didn't Work For TV Punk, Either

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Johnny Barnes, 21, was charged with passing an altered dollar bill today because he didn't look old enough to buy beer.

Barnes said in a written statement to Secret Service agents he tried Sept. 24 a money-making scheme he saw on television.

He said he tore corners from four five dollar bills, then pasted them over the corners of a dollar bill.

Lane Bertram of the service said Barnes bought two bottles of beer with the bill and got change, but only after the bartender had looked at his driver's license to see whether he was old enough.

Bertram said the bartender found the bill and remembered who gave it to him. With what he could remember from the driver's license, the Secret Service was able to track down Barnes. "You know," Barnes told reporters, "it didn't work for the guy on TV either."

2,000 Pupils Get Flu

CLEVELAND (AP)—A flu epidemic kept 2,000 Cleveland school children out of class Tuesday, including about 50 per cent of the student body at Patrick Henry Junior High.

rejoice or suffer, as the case might be. And inasmuch as you did your best, according to your lights, to be impartial, and afford equal portions of happiness to both boys, you have no cause to reproach yourself.

In family life, as in other departments of human activity, people discover natural antagonisms and natural congenialities. Some people like or love; others don't strike us right. And they feel the same towards us. We find ourselves dealing with kindred souls, happily; and-or having difficulties with antipathetic temperaments, to our dismay.

What can we do about the difficult cases? Well, we can recognize the mutuality of the handicap that our unbidden sentiments impose. We can respect the existence of a problem of personality conflict—that is to say, a kind of collision between two egos, who are spiritual strangers to one another.

And wisely, if we possess wisdom, which is a charitable sense of true values, we will try to accommodate the problem—in terms of (1) deliberately putting aside our hostile or rejecting reflexes, while (2) behaving with attentive consideration, in any exchange involving the "unsympathetic" person.

We will keep in mind that the special tax on tolerance and self-control imposed by these efforts, isn't the "fault" of either party—that is, as long as both parties are consciously disposed to practice good will. It is only when natural hostility is allowed to take over, in ugly mannerisms towards the alien soul, that real blameworthiness enters the picture.

But back to your sense of sorrow about your different experiences with your son. In my opinion you are entitled to peace of heart. No doubt your younger son had a necessity to assert himself in his own way; and it was admirable of you to allow him room for being himself, when he refused to work at mutual understanding.

Turnpike Revenue Up By 30 Pct., Report

CLEVELAND (AP)—Chairman James W. Shocknessy of the Ohio Turnpike Commission Tuesday reported revenues for the second full year of operation were $19,138,000, up 30 per cent from the first year. The toll road opened Oct. 1, 1955.

Revenues after operating expenses totalled $14,618,000 for the second year, compared to $11,100,101 for the first 12 months.

American Donates 2 Trees to Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—Edward Scanlon, editor of the magazine "Trees" of Cleveland, Ohio, has presented the citizens of Moscow with two 42-year-old maple trees brought from America. Scanlon is here as a tourist and gave the trees as a gift. They were planted Tuesday in Moscow's Friendship Park.

Buckeye Solon Rated as Liberal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Thomas L. Ashley of Ohio is one of 39 Democrats in the House who rate a perfect score from the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) for "liberal" voting.

The ADA analyzed votes in both the House and Senate on what it called key liberal issues. In the Senate, Democrats were "in harmony with liberal policies" 55 per cent of the time and Republicans 46 per cent.

In the House the Democrats had 39 members registering 100 per cent, the Republicans, none.

Twenty-six Republicans opposed the "liberal position" on all key votes, the ADA said. They included Rep. Gordon T. Sherer of Ohio.

Twenty Democrats were given a zero rating.

Detroit Feared Hit By Asian Flu Epidemic

DETROIT (AP)—A disease believed to be Asian flu has reached epidemic proportions in several sections of Detroit, Dr. Joseph G. Molner, health commissioner, says. Absenteeism in public and parochial schools climbed to 54,000, about 36,000 more than the number expected at this time of year, he said. The absenteeism total is about 15 per cent of the total enrollment.

Circleville Garden Club Holds September Meeting

Members Exchange Plant Cuttings

The first fall meeting of the Circleville Garden Club was held in the home of Mrs. Hal Dickinson, 209 N. Scioto St. Mrs. Ella Hornbeck and Mrs. George Lawson were assisting hostesses.

Floyd Bartley, as incoming president, conducted the business meeting. The new yearbooks were distributed. An invitation was read to the open meeting Oct. 22 at the Harrisburg School. Mrs. Inez Burkett will be the speaker. Advance registrations must be in by October 21—a fee of 75 cents will be charged.

Plans for sponsoring the Gourd Show at Pumpkin Show were made. Various seeds, gourds and novelty corn will be sold. The premium list for the show will be almost the same as last year. Mrs. C. C. McClure passed around new Fall Garden Catalogues.

A memorial service arranged by Mrs. Donald H. Watt in honor of Mrs. Ada Cook, who passed away on August 19, was read by Mrs. Elmer Wolf. Mrs. Cook was a charter member of the Circleville Garden Club and had been an active member until recent years.

There were nineteen members present, one new member, and five guests. The guests were, Mrs. Leora Sayre, Mrs. Swagler, Mrs. George Hilditch, Mrs. Frank Marion and Mrs. Minke.

An exchange of a plant slip or cutting was made, and reports of their progress will be made in April. Mrs. Dickinson will have charge of this project.

The two delegates to the Convention of the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs, Mrs. Donald H. Watt, and Floyd Bartley gave reports. Mrs. Watt gave a detailed report. She said that over 800 registered for the convention and the theme this year was "Gardening Through the Year".

The morning session included clinics on Program and Year books, by Mrs. John L. Sander, Publicity Radio and T. V. by Mrs. Leo Eberhart and Mrs. Walter Burton. Flower show and Flower Arrangement, Mrs. Dan Rosenheim and Mrs. E. L. Staup. How to Make Corsages, by Mrs. James Titus, Jr.

The afternoon session was mainly about house plants. "Plants in the Home" was Mrs. Peggy Schulze's subject. She is an author and lecturer.

She spoke about the most popular house plants, Gloxiana, Begonias, African Violets and Episcias. The Gloxiana need a light sunny window, lukewarm water, but must not be soggy. The soil should be three parts loam, two parts peat moss and one part sand. Spray for thrips and diseases at regular intervals with an Aerosol bomb. Fertilize monthly until buds appear. Watering should be stopped after flowers fade, put tubers in plastic bag to rest soon after January.

African violets can be grown successfully under 40 watt fluorescent lights, about 18 inches away from the plants. Mrs. Schulze stated that the pastels—white, pink and pale blues, need less light than the deep tones, from fourteen to eighteen hours of light per day. She keeps the plants in plastic bags, also leaves that might be damaged. Mrs. Schulze cautioned that entries to flower shows should have a single crown. More than one crown will not be considered. She uses a Black Magic soil for her Violets and Episcias.

The Episcias is the flame violet with many trailing vines and new "babies" at the end of each vine. She suggested putting a mother plant in a round cake pan and the babies around in the soil, soon you will have a gorgeous centerpiece. A light spongy soil with charcoal in it was recommended.

Geraniums grown outdoors may have slips taken from them in July or August for indoor plants. Choose hard stems, let the slips dry first then pot. Geraniums need bone meal for best results.

At the evening or banquet session, Dr. Creech, U. S. Plant expert who has introduced many plants to U. S. gardens, spoke on "Plant Hunting in Japan". Dr. Creech is interested in finding native holly and Azaleas to start in this country.

Professor Victor Reis presented the Master Gardner Award, an award given in his honor. Professor Reis is retiring after 32 years service at the Ohio State University. A Scholarship is being founded in his name to be given to an outstanding student.

The second day of the convention John Fish, Eastman Kodak Co., talked on "How to Take Good Pictures". He stressed simplicity, a good background and good exposure for successful pictures. At the afternoon session awards were made to the Outstanding Junior Gardner and the Outstanding Junior Garden Club. The Flower Show Awards were also given.

Floyd Bartley attended the tea and reception given for the convention members at the Governors Mansion. There were about 510 members present at the tea. Bartley had on display at the convention from thirty to forty mounted plants.

Morrison's Open House Attended by 150 Guests

Open House from 2 to 5 p. m. marked the Golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Morrison, Ashville. The affair, which was attended by 150 guests was held at the Morrison's home on Gay St.

Receiving the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Morrison and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Elwood Morrison.

Presiding at the tea table which was centered with yellow chrysanthemums flanked by yellow candles were Mrs. Morrison's sisters. They are: Mrs. Thomas Painter, Mrs. Reuben Weber, Mrs. Lloyd Kraft, and Mrs. Howard Rohr.

Other hostesses were: Mrs. Charles Trone, Mrs. Lloyd Pritchard, Mrs. John Sabine, Mrs. Earl Boyer and Mrs. Lawrence Fullen.

Refreshments carried out the golden wedding theme. Golden bells centered the ice cream and wedding bells outlined in yellow decorated the cakes.

The Morrisons received many gifts from relatives and friends. They have one son, Elwood and two grandchildren, Kaye and Jay Morrison.

Practical Nurses Assn. Has Picnic at Figgat Home

Eleven members and two guests of the Practical Nurses Association of Pickaway County were entertained at the home of Mrs. Millicent Figgat, with Mrs. Thelma Smith as co-hostess.

A wiener roast and hamburger fry by the hostesses was supplemented by a covered-dish carry-in. The picnic supper was held on the lawn with a campfire setting.

In the absence of both president and vice-president, Mrs. Loring Evans presided at the business meeting.

Mrs. Evans told of a trip she made with three other members, to attend a meeting of the Fairfield County Assn. in Lancaster recently.

Many subjects of interest to those in the nursing profession were discussed, especially the urgency of joining the State of Ohio organization.

Announcement was then made by Mrs. Evans of the State Convention of Registered Practical Nurses which is to be held at the Neil House in Columbus Oct. 28-29 and 30. Each session of the three days will feature interesting speakers.

Those expecting to attend throughout the convention are Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Lillian Kerr, Mrs. Figgat and Mrs. Smith.

It was decided that the next meeting would be held at Berger Hospital on Oct. 25.

CCL Members Hear Reports On Four Civic Projects

Mrs. R. E. Hedges Is Hostess

The October meeting of Child Conservation League was held at the home of Mrs. Robert E. Hedges, Tuesday.

The Ways and Means Committee announced that it had secured a tent which would be suitably decorated and used during Pumpkin Show from which to sell the Pumpkin banks, and that posters, flares, newspaper ads and every means possible would be used to publicize the CCL parking lot at Harden's garage during the show.

It was announced that Wednesday Nov. 6 would be "Husband's Night".

Mrs. Ray Carroll, Mrs. James Carr, and Mrs. John Yunker were voted in as new members.

The program for the meeting was a discussion of Civic activities to which the league has contributed; first Mrs. R. E. Hedges gave a history of the origin of the Youth Canteen, its purposes, the need it fulfills in the community, the organizations and individuals who have contributed to its success and particularly the desperate need at the present time for more parental help.

Second Mrs. Jasper Hedges discussed the will of Frank P. Berger which left thirty-thousand dollars to be matched by the city to build Berger Hospital. Mrs. Hedges gave statistics and details on the Hospital's growth through the years including the additional wing built in 1949 and the forming of the very helpful hospital guilds. The main objective of the hospital now is to achieve the goal of becoming fully accredited.

Third Mrs. James Yost told the members that the South End Playground to which the League has allocated two hundred dollars.

Last Mrs. Donald Mitchell spoke on what she considered Circleville's worthiest project, the Low-ery Lane Mission which was started by the Bible School students and whose enthusiasm inspired the Ministerial Association to appeal to their churches to help raise the fifteen thousand dollars necessary to build the Mission. The building is now completed although fifteen hundred dollars is still owed, furniture, clothing is still needed before the project is satisfactorily completed.

Antioch College at Yellow Springs Ohio has had world-wide attention focused on its unique educational system. Antioch students spend alternate periods of five weeks each in classroom study and in working for private industry.

Claassen's Predictions For Last Week Faulty, But He's Brave Soul

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK (AP)—There's always agitation for the return of the kicking phase to college football. Those agitators should see the kicks received when 12 of 44 predictions are wrong as was the case a week ago.

That dropped the season's average from .823 to .770. Last week's aggregate was .727. Here's hoping the readers will do more passing than kicking in the immediate future.

Oklahoma over Iowa State: The Sooners show their new model crusher to the home folks.

Michigan State over California: After you've seen the World Series on TV, you can relax with Coach Duffy Daugherty as his Spartans romp over the Californians.

Navy over North Carolina: The Navy eleven this year is of the battleship class.

Baylor over Miami: Houston beat Miami, Baylor beat Houston.

Oregon State over Northwestern: Because Joe Francis and Earnest Durden play for the West Coast Beavers.

Ohio State over Washington: Neither team has shown to advantage so far but the Buckeyes should take this one.

Notre Dame over Indiana: Aubrey Lewis to give the Hoosiers a long, dreary afternoon.

Iowa over Washington State: The West Coast team's passing attack no match for Iowa's defensive-minded Hawkeyes.

Michigan over Georgia: The Wolverines get ready for the big game with Michigan State next week.

Duke over Maryland: It is homecoming for Duke and the grads will be back to watch Hal McElhaney cavort.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

FRIDAY NIGHT
Pittsburgh over Southern California, Montana over Brigham Young.

SATURDAY
EAST: Dartmouth over Penn, Boston College over Quantico Marines, Princeton over Columbia, Cornell over Harvard, Villanova over Florida State, Penn State over Army, Holy Cross over Dayton, Syracuse over Boston University, Brown over Yale.

MIDWEST: Houston over Cincinnati, Colorado over Kansas, Illinois over Colgate, Kansas State over Nebraska, Tulane over Marquette, Texas A&M over Missouri, Oklahoma State over Wichita, Wisconsin over West Virginia, Purdue over Minnesota.

SOUTH: N. C. State over Clemson, Auburn over Chattanooga, The Citadel over Davidson, George Washington over Furman, Kentucky over Florida, Tennessee over Texas Tech, Rice over Stanford, Alabama, Wake Forest over Virginia, Virginia Military over Richmond, Virginia Tech over William & Mary.

SOUTHWEST: Arkansas over Texas Christian, Louisiana State over Texas Tech, Rice over Stanford, Texas over South Carolina.

FAR WEST: Air Force Academy over Detroit, Utah over Idaho, Arizona State over San Jose, Wyoming over Utah State, UCLA over Oregon.

Basilio's Welter Title Is Vacated

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The National Boxing Assn. today vacated the welterweight title of Carmen Basilio, the new middleweight ruler, and then pronounced him "Boxer of the month."

Fred J. Saddy, chairman of the NBA's ratings committee, said it was customary for a champion moving up to a higher division, as Basilio has done, to surrender his old title.

But, in Basilio's case, "out of consideration for his past reputation as a boxer of integrity and courage," Saddy said the NBA gave him 10 days to make up his mind. The 10-day period expired today with no word from Basilio.

American League To Refuse NL Grab of All Big Cities

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Chuck Comiskey of the Chicago White Sox said today the American League would grant the National League's return to New York in a swap for the right to enter Los Angeles and San Francisco when and if it chooses to do so.

"We're not going to let the National League take over in the two most lucrative West Coast cities and then return to New York too," said Comiskey, also an alternate on major league baseball's Executive Council.

"Let's face it," he said, "in 15 years there will be only three two-team towns—New York, Chicago and Los Angeles."

Big Klu Says He Could Have Played More

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ted Kluszewski, whose aching back caused his slugging reputation to fade, figures he could have played regularly in more games this season for the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Big Klu, 33, said Tuesday night that there was "no more pain in my back this season than in 1956."

He said he was naturally disappointed that he was not used more often, but said, "selection of players is up to the manager."

Kluszewski appeared in only 69 games this season, often as a pinchhitter, and batted .268, with six home runs, 21 runs batted in.

Last year, when his back first began to bother him, he played in 138 games, batting .302 with 102 runs batted in and 35 homers.

Specialists earlier this year diagnosed the big slugger's ailment as a slipped spinal disc, but differed on whether he should have an operation.

He finally decided against surgery, figuring he could bear the pain.

Klu said Tuesday night he will probably confer with physicians again but said: "The exact nature of the consultations I cannot disclose for the simple reason I'm not thinking about it seriously at the moment."

Pitt End Selected Lineman of Week

NEW YORK (AP)—With only 22 seconds left, end Art Gob caught a touchdown pass that resulted in a 6-3 victory for Pitt over Oregon.

That achievement brought the 20-year-old Pitt wingman the lineman of the week award today in an Associated Press poll.

The 6-4 junior, who weighs 225 pounds, had raced into the end zone before catching a 22-yard aerial from Ivan Tonic for the TD that turned apparent defeat into victory.

Ashville Set For Madison South Squad

Ashville will be seeking its second win in a row Friday night when the Bronco gridders travel to Madison-South for a Darby Valley League contest.

Fresh from a 12-8 win Friday night at McArthur, Coach Russ Gregg's gridders will attempt to stay on the winning side of the ledger at the expense of the Madison County school.

According to Coach Gregg not much is known about the capabilities of Madison South, although the team was defeated last week, 19-6, by Jonathan Alder, Ashville's opponent here October 26.

Ashville again will depend on the hard-running of halfback Dick Hoover and the passing of quarterback Bill Boyer, plus a repeat performance by the Bronco offensive and defensive line.

HOOPER picked up 110 yards on the ground and completed two passes against McArthur. Boyer completed five of the Broncos' nine pass attempts.

On October 11 Coach Gregg takes his squad to West Jefferson and the following week travels to Carey to meet former Circleville High gridders Carl Cupp's 11.

The Broncos meet Jonathan Alder in a homecoming battle October 26 on Circleville High's gridiron. The season ends November 1 at Summit Station.

Chuck Stearns, 1957 men's national water ski champion, comes from Bellflower, Calif. He won the slalom, placed second in trick skiing and fifth in jumping.

Lenny Kanthal, Washington heavyweight, holds a decision over Pete Rademacher Seattle heavyweight. They fought as amateurs. Both now are professionals.

Grambling College Tops in Offense

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A smashing ground attack in its opener gave Grambling, La., College the offensive leadership among football teams in the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics, NAIA statistics showed today.

Grambling rolled up 465 yards on the ground and 125 in the air for a total of 593.

Hanover, Ind., college dropped to second in total offense with an average of 446.2 in three games.

Southwestern Oklahoma boasts the best defensive mark, holding three foes to 253 yards, an average of 84.3 per game. Grambling is runnerup with 91 yards.

Heart Attacks Seen Killing As Many Hunters as Guns

By DION HENDERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Every year, hundreds of Americans go hunting who haven't the heart for it. Literally.

And scores of them die. Just how many, nationwide, is one of the appalling mysteries that the statisticians have yet to figure. But although the extent of the over-all toll is unknown, there is some evidence that the mortality caused afield by overburdened hearts approaches that of negligent gunfire.

For instance, last fall three hunters died of gunshot during Wisconsin's nine-day deer season, but nine—three times as many—died of heart attacks while hunting deer during the same period.

The year before, eight were shot to death, 12 were heart victims.

With heavy campaigns for gun safety education underway for some years, the hunting safety rate—from firearms—has shown a marked percentage decrease.

Among big game states, for instance, New Hampshire went two years without a fatality. Utah lost only one life by gunshot and Wyoming hunting was pronounced as "safe as checkers" with one casualty for 140,000 man-seasons. Nebraska racked up six straight.

Lack of statistics, and consequent lack of alarming over-all totals, may explain why no safety campaign anywhere near comparable to the gun safety drives have been inspired.

Michigan, which has become aware of its considerable toll, now is trying to stir up some interest in saving the hearts as well as the hides of its hunters.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, the state health commissioner, has written a hunters' guide for the Michigan conservation department.

Most important, Dr. Heustis notes, is the information a hunter's doctor can give him, preferably just before a trip is planned, and with the trip in mind.

Overeating, excessive smoking and drinking, emotional excitement, lack of rest and sleep and of course the unaccustomed exercise all constitute factors that should be considered by the individual in light of his own case.

The casualty rate from heart failure should, after all, be easier to whip than the problem of the stray bullet.

After all, you can't blame an unknown hunter half a mile away for your heart attack.

Bragan Hopes To Keep All Tribe Coaches

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cleveland Indians' new manager, Bobby Bragan, said Tuesday he wants to keep all three Indian coaches—Eddie Stanky, Mel Harder and Red Kress.

Stanky, former manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, took over the third base coaching job under Kerby Farrell's short regime.

Harder and Kress, who pre-date Farrell in the Indian organization, also are expected to stay around.

Harder, who pitched 223 victories in 20 seasons for the Indians, became pitching coach in 1948.

Kress joined the club as coach in 1953 after a career as player and manager dating back to 1927.

Stanky was Farrell's candidate for the manager job, but General Manager Hank Greenberg said the only man he considered was Bragan.

Bragan said he will go through with his commitment to manage the Almadenes club in the Cuban League this winter. The Cuban team has agreed to let him attend the U. S. baseball meetings in December, and to visit Cleveland early next year.

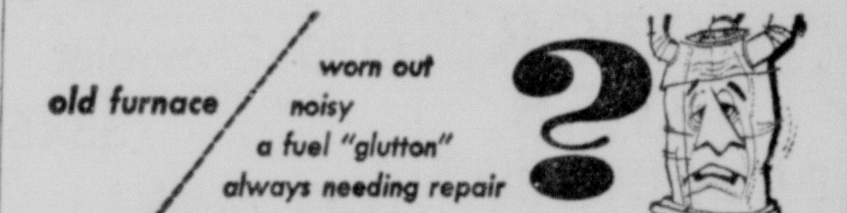

"I'm looking forward to seeing Cleveland," he said. "The closest I ever got was the airport. Cleveland stadium is the one big league park I've never been in."

fellow budgeter... here's good news!

ARE YOU IN THIS PREDICAMENT? You need a new furnace. Old one's shot... worn out, noisy, a bear on repairs, just plain inadequate.

But you'd like to go all the way... replace your old furnace with a combination heating-cooling unit.

Only, the "price tag" for year 'round comfort looks a little steep. You think maybe you'll have to settle for a new furnace and forget your dreams of cool summer living!

Fellow budgeter, here's good news! A new Janitrol WIN-SUM-MATIC with ADD-ON COOLING OPTION will solve your problem neatly, completely, at a price you can afford.

Sounds good, doesn't it? Mister, it's great! Find out for yourself, in a five-minute visit with your Janitrol dealer—on the phone, or person-to-person in your home.

Council Takes Legal Steps Toward Starting Sewer Jobs

Two more steps in the legal procedures leading to construction of the north end and Nicholas Drive sewers were taken last night by City Council.

All told, the solons passed five ordinances and adopted two resolutions. It was a light work night for the lawmakers.

Ordinances authorizing issuance of notes in anticipation of issuance of bonds for both sewer jobs were passed.

The estimated cost of the north end sewer, officially called Circleville Sewer District No. 1, is set at $262,000, with the city's share about $127,000—the balance to be paid by the benefited property owners.

Council wishes to issue $137,000 worth of bonds at 4 1/2 per cent for a 10-year period. They will be general obligation bonds against the full credit of the city.

TOTAL COST of the Nicholas Drive project is estimated at $10,000, with the city planning to issue $9,800 worth of bonds. The interest rate will be about 6 per cent.

The lawmakers adopted resolutions calling for the estimated life of the north end sewer and maximum maturity of the bond issue from the city auditor, and also asking the auditor to certify the estimated life of the bonds.

'Apple a Day' Adage Gets Test

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—The old adage "An apple a day keeps the doctor away" is being given a scientific check.

Dr. E. H. Lucas, professor of horticulture at Michigan State University, is conducting a three year check on the effects of apple eating on the general health of students. The check is now in its second year.

Some 500 students are voluntarily cooperating in the experiment. The general health of the volunteer students is being checked against a similar group not given apples.

Ohioan Accused Of Killing Convict

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A 25-year-old Alcatraz prisoner from Columbus, Ohio, will stand trial Nov. 4 on charges of knifing to death another convict at the prison.

Roland E. Simcox, the prisoner, is accused of killing Edward H. Gauvin, 23, of Floral Park, N.Y., with a homemade eight-inch copper knife June 6. Both men were sent to Alcatraz for mutiny in the Army in Korea.

Simcox was tried and acquitted May 29, 1956, of attempting to murder another convict with a

Worker Survives 300-Degree 'Bath'

DALLAS (AP)—Carl W. Ely, 42, fell into a vat of 300-degree oil as he and Durrell Pierce, 23, were taking a piece of hot steel from a furnace at a heat treatment plant.

Ely went completely under, except for one hand with which he gripped the edge of the vat. Pierce quickly grabbed the hand and pulled him out.

Doctors said Ely was seriously burned, but said his clothing and Pierce's quick action saved him from more serious burns and possible death.

mated life of the Nicholas Drive sewer.

Next step is to advertise for bids on sale of the bonds.

Installation of three street lights in the Bloomdale Addition was authorized in an ordinance approved by the legislators. The lights will be installed on Ruth and Stella Aves.

Council appropriated $52.80 to pay for photostatic work in connection with the north end sewer project. The solons also transferred $917.05 from the water works department and $547.52 from the sewage treatment department to the general fund as reimbursement for payment of owners.

Stoutsville Home-School Club Meets

The Stoutsville Home-School Club met for the first time this year Monday night in the Stoutsville School. More than 200 parents, teachers and friends attended the meeting.

Alton Noggle, president of the club, presided during the business session and introduced the other officers: Mrs. Philip Davis, vice-president; Mrs. James Lovett, secretary; and Dana Estell, treasurer.

Noggle explained that the membership drive this year would be in charge of the pupils. The room securing the most members would be given a prize. Also to encourage attendance at the monthly meeting, a prize will be given to the room having the greatest number of parents present.

Superintendent Cole suggested that the club take as its project for the year, the purchase of new furniture and equipment for the grade rooms. He also explained to the club the new type of report card being used this year in Fairfield County.

MEMBERS of the ways and means committee are:

Mrs. Raymond Hedges, chairman, Mrs. Roger Smith, co-chairman, Mrs. Wilbur Alkire, Mrs. Clydus Miller, Mrs. Curtis Swayner, Mrs. Cloyce Smith, Mrs. James Salyers, Mrs. James Gobel, Mrs. J. D. Rhymus, Mrs. Malcom Russell, Mrs. Frank Kiser, Mrs. Marvin Justice and Mrs. Dorothy Drum.

Big Darby Bridge Bid Is $105,283

The Conn Welding & Machine Co. of New Castle, Pa., was apparent low bidder for repair work on the bridge over Big Darby Creek on State Route 316 in Darbyville. Sealed bids for the work were opened yesterday at the state highway department offices in Columbus.

Conn's bid was $105,283.60, while the state's estimate was $123,100. The bridge will be widened from 17 to 20 feet, the floor will be reconstructed and the approaches improved. Length of the project is three-tenths of a mile. Completion date is set for November 15, 1958.

Steelworkers Strike

RAVENNA —Some 375 United Steelworkers of America struck the Ravenna Arsenal Tuesday to support demands in contract negotiations.

state industrial compensation premiums.

In other action Councilmen indicated they will not extend a sewer line from the Fairgrounds cattle barns to the Stoutsville Road to allow service on two lots at the intersection of Route 22 and Stoutsville Road.

Irvin Leist, city water and sewage department manager, said Harry Hill asked the proposal be brought to Council. The solons indicated it is against city policy to extend sewer facilities beyond the city limits. They said the project might be allowed if entirely financed by the property owners.

A request for a sewer along Barnes Ave. was received by Council and referred to the Service Committee.

Another request for a sewer along Route 188 at the city limits was referred to Dewey Speakman, city service director.

Vermont Denies Cows in Majority

BASIN HARBOR, Vt. (AP)—The head of a Vermont civic group says it is not true Vermont has more cows than people, as had been popularly believed.

Frank Ward, president of the Greater Vermont Assn., told a banquet meeting of the organization Tuesday night that he was informed by State Agriculture Commissioner Elmer E. Towne that the state has 1,000 more people than cows.

He did not give any figures. The 1950 census lists Vermont as having 377,747 humans.

Nuclear Lab Gets OK

CINCINNATI (AP)—Directors of the University of Cincinnati have approved establishment of a nuclear laboratory to make possible graduate work in nuclear science.

ROTARY SPEAKER — Dick Boerner, Cleveland, formerly chief engineer of the local General Electric plant, will speak on "What Automation Means to You" at the regular noon luncheon meeting of the Circleville Rotary Club tomorrow. Boerner was active in civic affairs while residing in Circleville.

Health Service's Flu Policy Holds

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Public Health Service advisory committee is sticking to the original recommendation for one dose of one cubic centimeter of Asian flu vaccine injected under the skin, for general use on adults.

For children under 5, the committee says, two doses of one-tenth of a cubic centimeter each, administered intracutaneously between layers of skin and separated by an interval of at least a week, are acceptable procedure.

The Health Service said the committee on Influenza Vaccine made its general recommendation after considering the possibility of using for adults one-tenth of a cubic centimeter of vaccine administered intracutaneously.
